The Mirror

Reflecting Our Four Years at M. H. S.

Presented by the Senior Class of 1959-1960

Dedication

We of the Senior Class of Manlius High School dedicate this 1959-1960 Mirror to Mrs. Jean Small, in appreciation for her many years of faithful service. Mrs. Small has so faithfully given her service to this school that we can not express our appreciation nearly enough.

Mrs. Small has accomplished a great deal in modernizing the school library during her ten years at Manlius High. The school now receives about fifty periodicals monthly. Mrs. Small, as head librarian, buys approximately 150 books annually, and keeps all books catalogued so they may be found readily. She has sacrificed much of her private life to better her work at the school.

Mrs. Small teaches World History and Latin II. Until this year, she has also taught Latin I, but due to the fact that we may be unable to find a Latin teacher to continue the course, it was not offered this year. At one time, Mrs. Small taught both World History and U.S. History. With her duties as a teacher and librarian, she has been kept constantly busy.

When Mrs. Small came to Manlius High in 1950, she organized the Horizon Club and Latin Club. When the Horizon Club was first started, there were only twelve members. That figure has grown until now there are thirty members. There were only five members in Latin Club when it was first started. That figure has also grown until now there are seventeen members.

She has devoted many extra hours of her summer vacations to the cause in which she believes - - - education - - - even though she has not been obligated in any way to do so.

Now, after 27 years in the teaching field, the last ten of which were spent at Manlius, Mrs. Small has decided to retire. But she really is not retiring, even though she says she is. In the past few years, Mrs. Small has been doing part-time work for the Campfire organization. After her departure from teaching, she will become full-time executive for the Campfire organization in this area.

We of Manlius High will greatly miss her smiling face and her most welcome suggestions. The students know and appreciate it that Mrs. Small has been one of the finest teachers they have ever had.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY 1956-1960

On August 27, 1956, a class of 27 green freshmen entered the doors of Manlius High School, anticipating four years of fun. Officers elected were: Linda Pearson, President; Norman Schuneman, Vice President; Judy Snodgrass, Secretary; Diane Devenyns, Treasurer; Mr. Milburn, Advisor. We lost two students this year. Our most tense moment was initiation.

We returned as sophomores on August 27, 1957, with 25 students. Officers this year were: Bruce Raabe, President; Norman Schuneman, Vice President; Darwin Pierson, Secretary; Jim Jensen, Treasurer; Mr. McKie, Advisor. We lost six students this year. For money-making projects we sponsored a bake sale and a dance.

As juniors we began the year on August 27, 1958, with 19 classmates. Officers elected were: Marilee Plumley, President; Diane Devenyns, Vice President; Judy Snodgrass, Secretary; Norman Schuneman, Treasurer; Mr. McKie and Mr. Conkling, Advisors. One of the most thrilling events was the receiving of our class rings. On May 16, we gave the seniors their final prom with "Mardi Gras" as our theme.

On August 27, 1959, we began our final year of high school with 18 students. We gained one student. Officers elected this year were: Marilee Plumley, President; Diane Devenyns, Vice President; Judy Snodgrass, Secretary; Linda Pearson, Treasurer; Mr. Burton and Mr. Bourquin, Advisors. So far for financial income projects we had the Homecoming Dance, football concession, record dance, two ham dinners, and the coat check at basketball games. The Jr.-Sr. Prom is scheduled for May 15. Our final activity is our class trip, the reward for the last four years of the hard work.

THE WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1960, being of sound mind and body, do hereby declare this to be our last solemn will and testament.

Larry A.--to Skip, my 6'4" height and my big feet.
Diane D.--to Pat L. the use of her lane at any time.

Harold H.--my typing ability to Bill J., as if he needs it.
Jim J.--to Kent a date book for all those Walnut girls.
Jack L.--A card of clips to Dick W. to set his black, wavy hair.
Bill M.--a pack of cigarettes to Bill E. so he won't bum.
Linda P.--a Thomas map to Bonnie W. so she won't get lost.
Darwin P.--to Bob J. my ability to make left-handed jump shots.
Marilee P.--To Theresa a little house of her own for Halloween.
Beverly P.--to Carolyn my ability to speak French so fluently.
Bruce R.--to Pat H. my ability to get along with the opposite sex.
Pat R.--to Connie my ability to write formulas and break test tubes.
Janice R.--to Joani my ability to become a French comedienne.
Kenny R.--to Barth my driving ability so he won't have any accidents.
Norman S.--to Ron my touchdown ability for next year.
Judy S.--to Nancy my ability to get out of P.E. class.
Bill S.--to Bob H. my ability to enjoy Ag. trips.
Nancee W.--to Jeri my wedding dress for future use.
Larry A.--to Don the ability to pester all the girls and not get caught by any of them.
Diane D.--to Judy my ability to unsuccessfully out argue Mr. Jenkins.
Jet H.--to Tom my promise to do my best to blow up the science lab.
Jim J.--to Bob N. the ability to stay awake at night and play poker.
Jack L.--to Doreen my bottle of peroxide.
Linda P.--to Marilyn my famous giggles and my dish-pan hands.
Bruce R.--to Ned my good grades and no girls.
Norman S.--to Franklin my ability to get along with the girls.

CLASS PROPHECY

I stepped off the plane at Midway Airport in Chicago. I was hurrying to the bank to give a report on the meeting of the National Bank Presidents Association, which I had attended in New York. I happened to spot a lady getting off a plane from Hollywood. She looked very familiar. All of a sudden I recognized her. She was Dawn O'Day, a famous starlet. I had gone to school with her. She was formerly known as Marilee Plumley. She had become famous by playing the role of an older daughter in a series of hillbilly movies of Ma and Pa Kettle. I rushed over to her and she recognized me instantly.

"Norman Schuneman, you old rascal you!"

We stood there talking a while and went in to check our luggage. Then we went for a cup of coffee and began to talk over old times. All of a sudden Marilee suggested that we take a plane to Manlius the next day. I was quite busy, being the president of the First National Bank of Chicago, but I finally agreed to go. First, I had to return to my bank to give the report of the meetings I had attended while on my trip. There I found my accountant, Harold Hunt, struggling over a five cent deficit in the supplies account. He finally found a penny post card and a four cent stamp were missing. Harold acquired ability to be highly proficient in Mr. Burton's bookkeeping class.

Early the next morning I met Marilee at the airport and we boarded the plane for Manlius. When we arrived, we both marveled at the sight. The town had developed rapidly in the ten years we both had been gone.

As we got off the plane at the new airport, we decided to rent a car instead of taking a taxi down town. There was a Pierson-Rent-A-Car Agency near by. The name seemed familiar. We were very surprised to find that it was owned by Darwin Pierson, a former classmate. He said he liked his work very much because it supplied him with a new model car to drive each year.

We decided to drive past the new school and the Manlius University. We stopped in at the university only to find Jet Hall as the head professor in the chemistry and physics departments. As we were walking through the university, a man walked past us very rapidly and a woman was running after him calling, "Wait for me, Turtle Dove!" We recognized her to be Linda Pearson and she was trying to catch up with her teacher-husband. Marilee called to her and Linda stopped. She told us that Judy Snodgrass and Diane Devenyns, who had changed their last names soon after high school graduation, now each had several children and were kept quite busy taking care of them. Nancy Wirth, who was the only pre-married graduate in our class, lived happily with her husband and children on their farm southeast of Manlius. A surprising thing had happened to both Janice Roseling and Beverly Pont. They had both gone to France to further their study of the French language. Janice had accidentally appeared on a French T.V. show. She told one of her usual old American jokes in French and it was so funny to them that she has now become a French comedienne. Beverly liked France so well that she is now a matron at a smart girls' school. The Harlam Globe Trotters got wind of the big Swede, Larry Anderson, and with the help of some black Shinola, they have made him their star player.

We left the university and drove down town. We noticed election posters tacked up on the light poles and buildings. The big banner that flew over the street read, "Vote in Police Chief Rabb for his tenth term." It looked as though Bruce, Rabb, Raabe had followed in his Uncle Lester's footsteps. We decided to drive out of town and see if the rich and fertile farms of the area had progressed. As we reached the outskirts of Manlius we noticed a huge cigarette factory. It was owned by Ken Russell and Bill Mueller. They had become famous by perfecting a no-tar, no-nicotine cigarette and they called it "Hot-Air." After we had driven a few miles, we came upon Swan's Watermelon Plantation, which was owned by Bill Swan, another graduate of the class of 1960. We noticed that Swany was set for anyone. He had heavy artillery set up everywhere. He had 8-foot electric fences, grass covered pit-falls, and the whole plantation was covered with bear traps. After we had observed this sight, we drove a few more miles, until we came upon Jensen's Ultra-Future Dairy Farm. There was Jim standing in front of his modern mansion. He immediately wanted to show us around, so we rode out to the barn on his three wheeled electric scooters. He showed us his newest invention that shampoos, dries, milks, and feeds a cow in five seconds. He had ten hired men that were kept busy cleaning his mile long barn and taking care of his two-thousand acres of land. When we left Jim's farm, we both agreed to follow the signs directing us to Lower's Game Preserve. We finally found it. In the middle of a grove of pine trees stood a huge hunters' lodge made of logs. On the lodge was a sign that read, "Jack Lower's Game Preserve, the only true sanctuary for all international liars."

We didn't stay long because we had to catch our plane back to Chicago in a half hour. When we arrived at the airport, we boarded our plane immediately, thinking that we had just made it. Time passed and I looked at my watch. We had been here exactly thirty minutes. I asked the pilot what was keeping us here and he told me that the stewardess was late and they couldn't find a replacement. Just then she came, walking slowly, into the plane. We got a look at her face and saw that she was the only classmate we hadn't found--always late, Pat, Ripp, Rashid.

JUNIOR OFFICERS

The 1959-60 school year opened with a total of twenty-seven juniors. Our officers for this year are:

President . . . . . Don Schaefer
Vice President . . . . . Connie Klockenga
Secretary . . . . . Pat Heater
Treasurer . . . . . Bob Hadley

We elected Miss Ashdown and Mr. Jenkins for class sponsors. Up to now we have had several money making projects; such as--bake sale, car wash, and selling ballpoint pens. We are planning three record dances and four ham dinners later on in the year.

One of the highlights of our third year in Manlius High School will be the Junior-Senior Prom, which will take place on Saturday, May 15. We are looking forward to this and hope to make it a night for the seniors to look back on with fond memories.

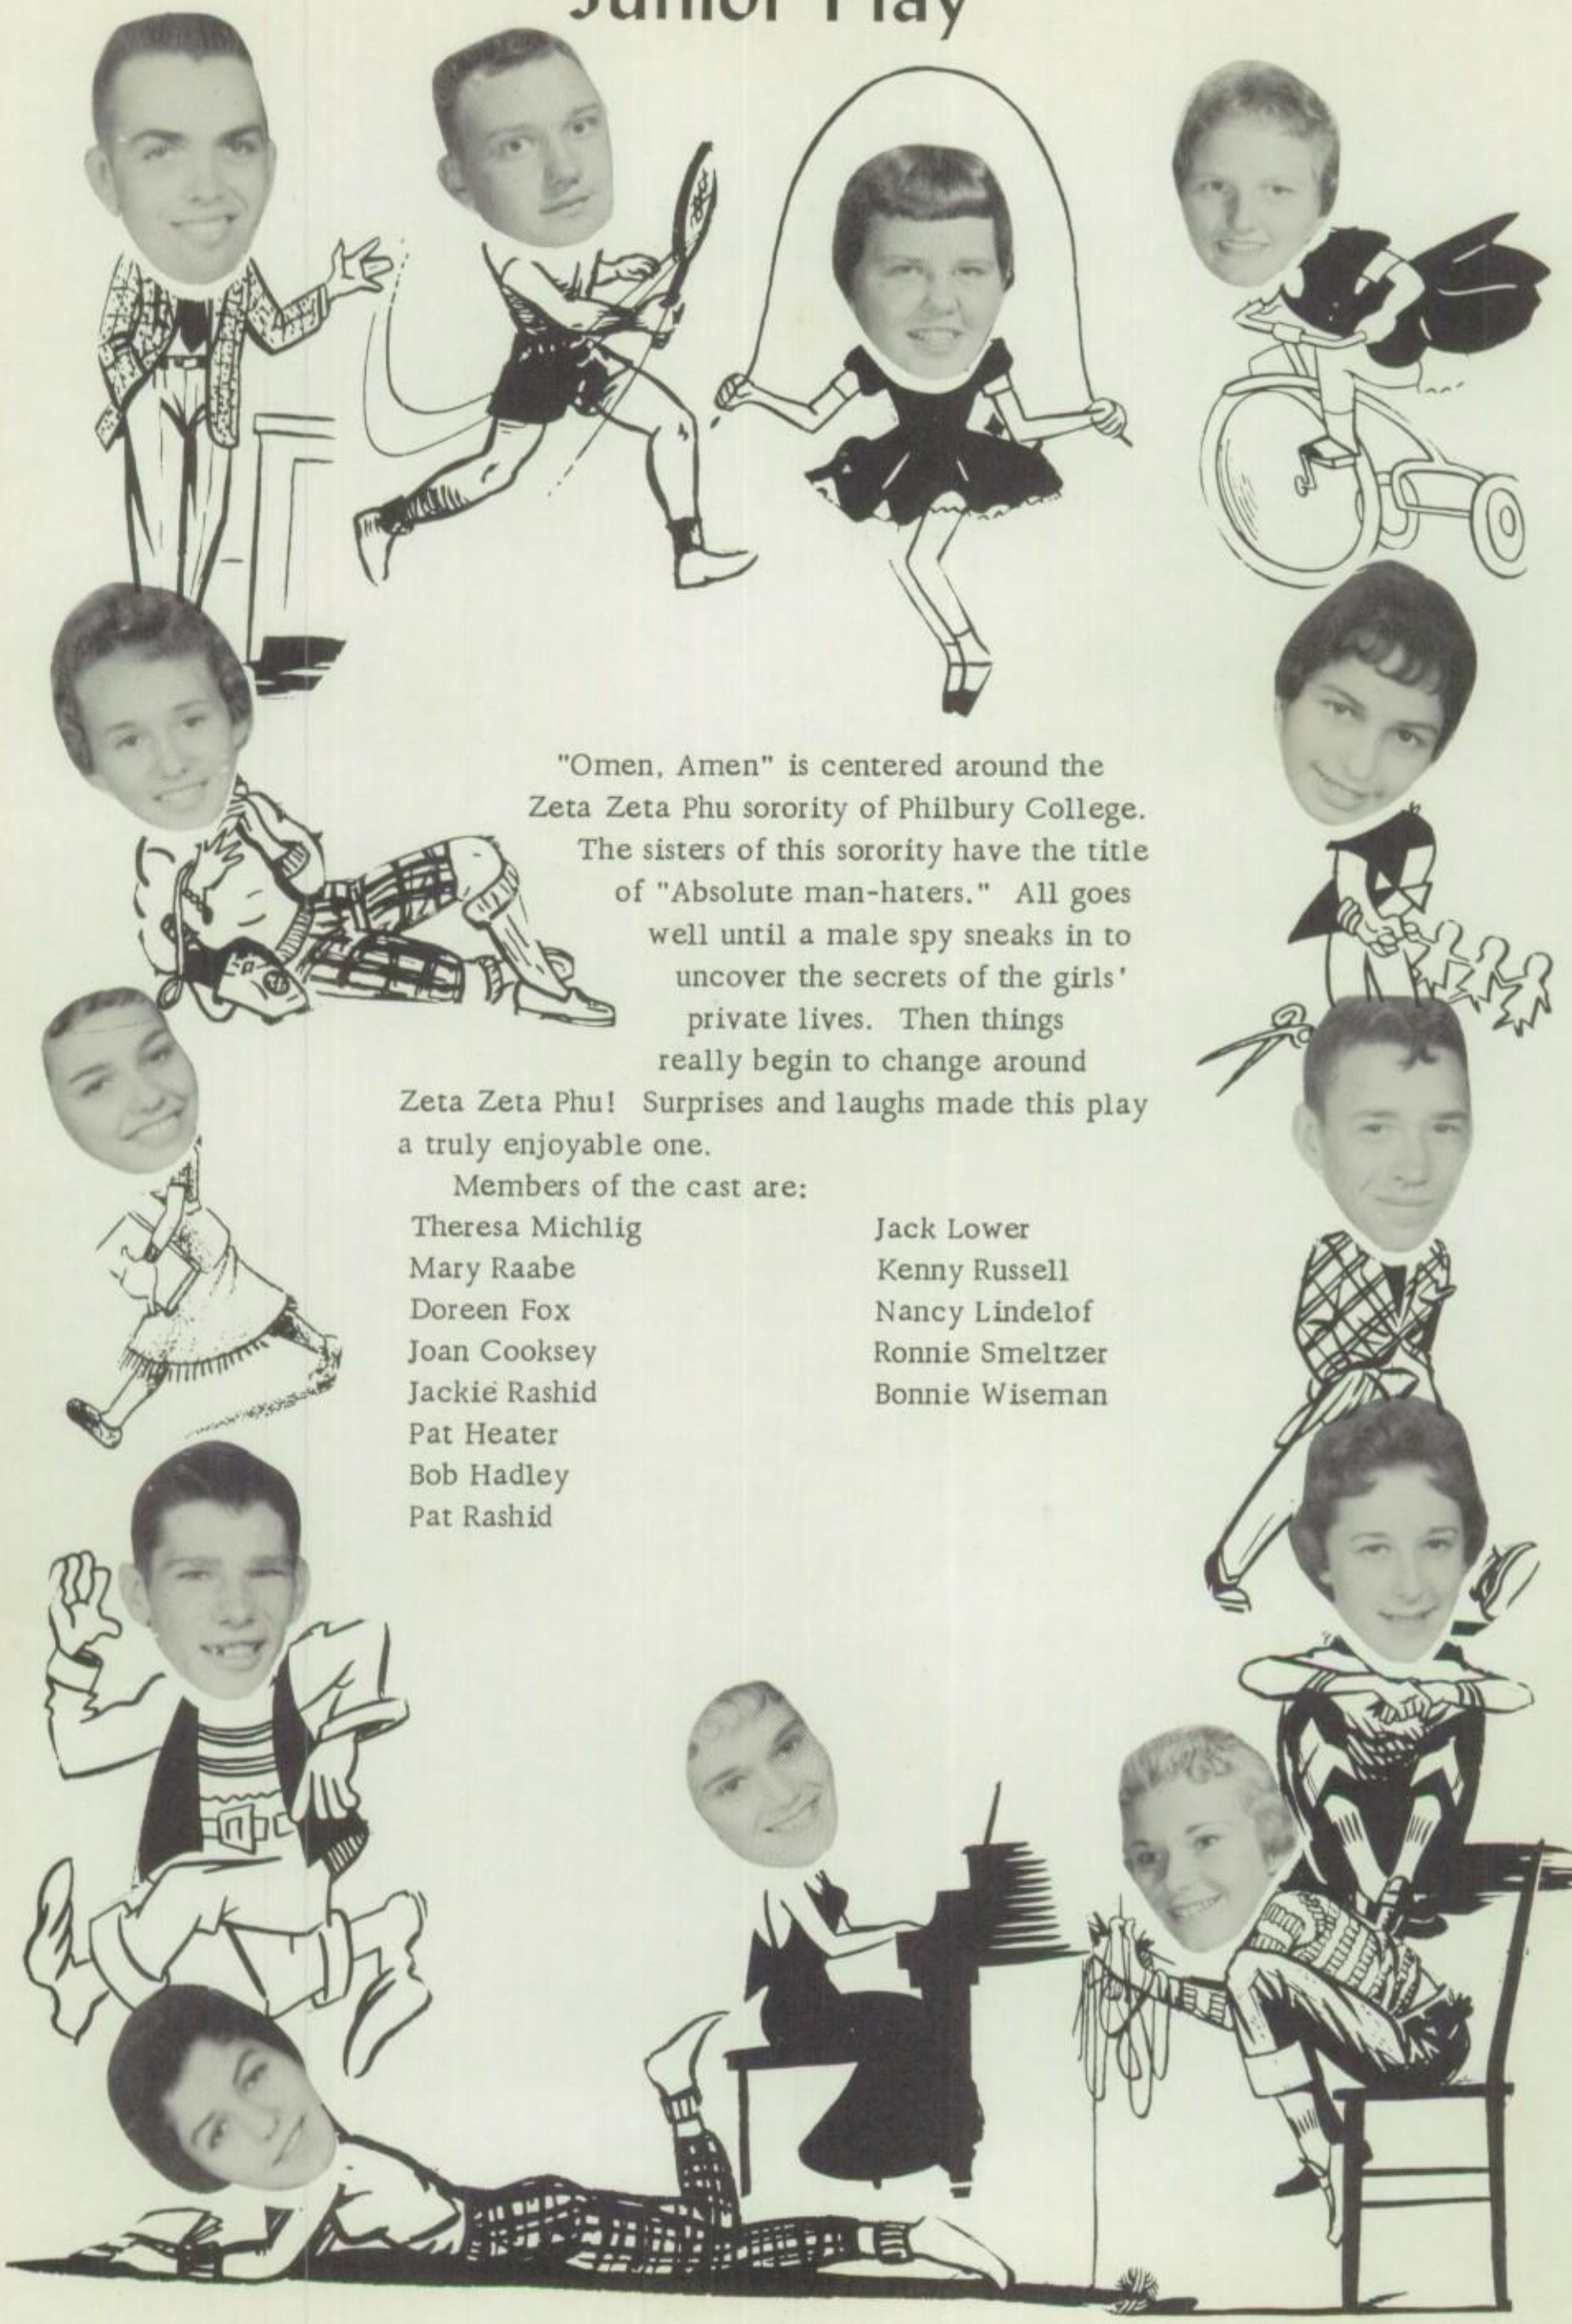
Activities

Junior Play



"Omen, Amen" is centered around the Zeta Zeta Phu sorority of Philbury College. The sisters of this sorority have the title of "Absolute man-haters." All goes well until a male spy sneaks in to uncover the secrets of the girls' private lives. Then things really begin to change around Zeta Zeta Phu! Surprises and laughs made this play a truly enjoyable one.

Members of the cast are:

"HEADIN' FOR A WEDDIN' "

L. to R., SEATED: Pat Rashid, Gerald McCoy, Joan Cooksey, Frosty Schuneman, Marilee Plumley, Robert Hadley, Pat Heater. STANDING: Mr. Milburn, director, Carol Snodgrass, Doreen Fox, Clare Foy, Connie Klockenga, Judy Snodgrass, Diane Devenyns, Jet Hall, Linda Pearson.

Our hero, Homer Hollowbone, has fallen in love with Melissa Dugan, a debutante with whom he has been corresponding. However, he has exaggerated a little. He told her he was a very rich, educated young gentleman, while actually he is a common hillbilly. He is pursued throughout the play by Bertha Blairhouse, a boisterous, sloppy hillbilly girl and Hortense Todd, a man-chasing old maid from the city. Isabel Todd tries desperately throughout the play to keep Hortense under control. It is a rollicking play with a cast of hillbillies, city-slickers, and Gloria, Paw's pet skunk.

We started our football season with 33 players, six of whom were lettermen. Our first game was with Galva. Since we scored three times in the first game, we had high hopes for the season, but due to injuries, inexperience, and illness, we were unable to fulfill these hopes. Although our season record was 0-9, the coaches, as well as the fans, believed that the players put forth their full efforts and maintained high morale throughout the season. We held our practices in Carey Fox's field, and played our home games at Walnut on Thursday nights. The weather throughout the season was fairly good except for the last game, which was played in heavy snow. The prospects for the coming year appear bright in view of eleven lettermen returning.

The discouraging factors were bound to affect the team's spirit, but through all this, Coach Bourquin never gave up hope.

SEASON STORY

The Red Devils started their pre-season practice on November 14, 1959. Two lettermen returned from last year.

Our first game was played on November 24, and we defeated Lyndon 81-46. The first string looked promising, and the reserves saw plenty of action.

During the season we lost five games by a total of ten points. Although we lost these five games, our season record was 11-13.

Our conference record was 8-10 and we landed sixth place in the conference.

The freethrow trophy was awarded to Bruce Raabe, who made 76 out of 105 attempts at the free throw line.

The biggest thrill of the season was beating the number two team in the conference by 24 points.

Four of the first six men will return next year. We are looking forward to a good year.
